

Get Your Gardening On!

New “Farm to Fork” Gardening Class and participation in the Pulda Farm Community Garden all summer!

Join Sharon Lohse, horticultural therapist and certified forest therapy guide, in a lecture/demonstration/hands-on class designed to help you plan your 2019 vegetable garden and give you real life experience in our community garden.

Learn how to compost, choose the best plants for your family, maximize your yield, and find happiness in the joy of growing your own food. In addition to your own harvest, this year we will be joining forces with the Youth Alliance growing vegetables for the food bank.
